Newly renovated homes for 112 San Diego families

LINC is excited to introduce the newly remodeled Arbor Village Apartments, a 112-unit community in San Diego. This $5.5- million rehabilitation has provided families with a brand new community center, which will house LINC Cares' eighth After-School Program. In addition, environmentally sustainable features were installed, like low-flow faucets and toilets, dual-pane windows and energy star appliances. Forty-one two-bedroom apartments were renovated to three-bedrooms in order to accommodate larger families.

Grand opening in Redding

LINC partnered with The Pacific Companies to build East Street Apartments, a 21-unit affordable apartment community for low-income older adults. The new complex is equipped with sustainable materials, systems and appliances as well as being registered with the U.S. Green Building Council to achieve LEED Gold certification. Redding Mayor Missy McArthur, who attended the East Street Grand Opening, expressed, "Not only did it provide much-needed construction jobs for our community, but it brings new, high-quality housing to our downtown area..." Residents at SEASONS at Redondo Beach enjoy tai chi

Seniors at SEASONS at Redondo Beach, a 150-unit affordable housing community, enjoy the many benefits of tai chi, an ancient Chinese form of martial arts and gentle form of exercise. LINC Cares partners with Beach Cities Health District to provide the weekly class. Resident Maria Arce shared, "Tai chi has been helpful...once I was on the airplane and my joints began to hurt from sitting, I remembered what I learned in Marc's class and used the techniques, and do you know it worked! The pain stopped! I've learned so much."
